PLEASE READ THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION CAREFULLY

This interview is part of a research project by the National Autonomous University of Mexico (UNAM) and Delft University of Technology (TU Delft), which seeks to better understand and map mangrove change in the coastal area of Sisal. This study is not related to any government program, and your participation, or non-participation, has no effect on any government benefits or services.

The purpose of this interview is to create a space for dialogue, and to share knowledge, perceptions, and opinions about how you and other groups experience the mangroves around Sisal and the changes taking place there.

Your participation and your data

- My participation in this interview is voluntary. I can stop the interview, or decline to answer any question, at any time, without giving a reason and without any negative consequences.
- This interview will be recorded and transcribed.
- My personal information (such as my name) will not be shared. In all research outputs, my responses will be identified only by a pseudonym code, not by my real name.
- My anonymised responses may be used in academic reports, publications, and presentations.
- Identifying information (such as my name, contact details and interview recording and transcription) will be stored securely, and deleted permanently before Nov 30th 2027.
